

MEXICO CITY HAS REPORT THAT DIAZ WILL QUIT IF WAR ENDS

Rumor Has It He Will Leave for Europe as Soon as Peace Is Declared.

MEXICO CITY, April 28.—Reports are current that President Diaz will resign May 5. These are denied in responsible quarters, but a report that resigns thirty days after the consummation of peace, and will embark for Europe within thirty days after resigning. But should the peace plans fail, Diaz will not resign, nor will he so long as the war continues.

Dr. Barra declines to discuss the demands of Madero, but there is good reason to believe the cable report is true that the government is balking at the $20,000,000 clause. This agrees with the belief that Barra carries a check for $15,000,000 to show Madero that the government is in good faith.

It is said that the government is unwilling to renew the armistice at the expiration of the present extension, and that should negotiations fall within the limit of the extended armistice, the war will be fought to a finish. De la Barra said today that the consul at Vera Cruz will be ordered to report at once the text of the purported interview with Corral, charging the revolutionaries with the seizure of the revolution. No statement will be made.

El Diario del Hogar, a morning daily, reopened this morning after the second suspension this year. It was closed in March because it viciously attacked Americans alleged to be stirring up the revolution.

Jacob Kanzer, an American, was released from the penitentiary this afternoon under bonds. He was arrested in Michoacan in February, while fomenting revolution under the guise of selling horse medicine. His liberty is conditional, and he is not allowed to leave Mexico City.

Six hundred rebels have demanded the surrender of Tehuacan, a winter resort in the State of Puebla. The town is guarded by 200 troops under General Hernandez, who refused to surrender, and fighting is going on.

Killing of Spaniards in Mexico May Lead to Complications Here

MEXICO CITY, April 28.—The killing of seven Spaniards at Encino, Puebla, Tuesday, by rebels is causing the most intense feeling all over Mexico.

It has a serious phase, because it will probably draw in the United States to protect the Monroe Doctrine. Spaniards in the interior, in a dozen cities, are protesting to the authorities against the war department's action in sending Spanish clubs here, at Vera Cruz, at Puebla, Zacatecas, and Monterey, are draped in mourning as are also hundreds of Spanish stores.

A memorial service will be conducted in the Spanish church of Santo Domingo Tuesday. The legation is besieged with requests for protection. The affair will probably cause a drastic note from Spain, and, observing the Monroe Doctrine, Spain must ask the United States to protect the lives and property of Spaniards.

A call has been drafted to Spaniards here to meet tomorrow night to protest. There are 20,000 Spaniards in the republic and 30,000 here.

State Department Here Told Mexico Is Probing Interview With Corral

The State Department was advised this morning that the Mexican government had taken steps to determine the authenticity of the interview purporting to come from Vice President Corral of Mexico, in which he charged the United States with helping the revolution in the expectation of intervening.

This interview had stirred the officials of the department here more deeply than anything that has come out since the Mexican troubles began. As the interview looks it is a direct challenge to the United States, and was designed, it is thought, to put this country on the defensive.

It also drew from the State Department the only statement given out on the progress of the revolution, and the peace negotiations. This statement repeated the attitude which the Mexican government has taken, and reported to have taken, and it has caused the Mexican government great uneasiness. No further steps will be taken by the United States until it is determined positively whether Corral made the statements credited to him.

DISCUSS ASPIRANTS FOR THE JUDGESHIP IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Senator Smith Tells Taft There Are Five Good Men Who Want Job.

The South Carolina judgeship was discussed with the President today by Senator Smith of South Carolina. He said that at present there were five leading lawyers of the State ready to take the position. They are E. W. Hughes, H. A. M. Smith, and Benjamin Haygood, of Charleston; former Gov. Martin F. Ansell, and D. S. Henderson, of Aiken. All of them are qualified, the Senator said, for this position.

An invitation was extended to the President today by Senator Smith, of Michigan, and Representative Doremus of that State, to visit the Michigan State fair, at Detroit, while on his Western trip. The President has already agreed to stop at Kalamazoo, Mich. He talked about this today with former Senator Burrows.

Three eminent prelates of the Catholic Church called on the President today. They are Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, Archbishop Scannell, of Baltimore, and Archbishop Pitaval, of New Orleans. They called to arrange a conference later in the day and did not discuss the report is received, no statement will be made.

CAPTAIN KNIGHT IS AGAIN APPROVED BY NAVAL BOARD

Jury Picked by Meyer Confirms Eligibility for Rear Admiral.

Capt. Austin M. Knight, of the navy, who was recently honorably acquitted of responsibility for the sinking of the monitor Puritan by a court-martial composed of seven rear admirals, although Secretary Meyer disapproved the verdict, yesterday passed his examination for promotion to rear admiral, and is now eligible for appointment by the President.

The court-martial which tried Captain Knight was the most distinguished in the history of the navy. Likewise, the examining board was composed of the highest ranking officers in the navy now on the active list, the members being Rear Admiral Schroeder, commander of the Atlantic fleet, Rear Admiral Roberts, president of the War College, and Rear Admiral Niles, of the naval examining and retiring board. The two former officers are at the top of the active list.

Inasmuch as all examining boards consider the records of candidates for promotion, the success of Captain Knight in passing his examination is considered by his friends as another vindication of his colleagues in the navy over the disapproval of the recent court-martial findings by Secretary Meyer.

The examining board, which acted yesterday, was selected by Secretary Meyer personally after he had disapproved a similar board named by Rear Admiral Nicholson and Rear Admiral Roberts. It was known to be friendly to Captain Knight. The future career of Captain Knight is being watched with the greatest interest by his friends in the navy who regarded the recent court-martial proceedings against him as in the nature of a persecution.

Likewise, many members of Congress have taken a deep interest in the case, inasmuch as the department toward Captain Knight might at any time be similarly manifested against any other officer of the navy.

International Law Is Topic of Jurists

The last session of the fifth meeting of the American Society of International Law was held this morning at the New Willard Hotel and was devoted to the reading of papers affecting the relations of one nation to another, and also dealing with the primary source of international obligations.

The officers for the society will be elected today, and the meeting of the society will conclude with the annual banquet at the Willard tonight. The toastmaster at the banquet will be Senator Elihu Root, and toasts will be responded to by President Taft, the Japanese Ambassador, Chief Justice White, Martin H. Knapp, David J. Foster, and the Chief Justice of Canada. The session this morning was presided over by Prof. Henri La Fontaine, a member of the Belgian senate, and a well-known authority on international law.

Three subjects were considered at the meeting. The first was on "The Effect of the Most-Favored-Nation Clause Upon the Status of Aliens," papers were read by Prof. N. Dwight Harris and Samuel B. Cranford. The second was on "The Primary Source of International Obligations," Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, Prof. Lawrence B. Evans, and Prof. William I. Hull took part in this discussion.

The last subject considered was "The Relative Value of Authorities." Two papers were read on this question, one by Frank C. Partridge and the other by Jackson H. Ralston.

Pathetic Story of How Aigrettes Are Secured

Aigrettes are the plumes that adorn the head, wings and back of the American and the snowy egret, and are finest in the breeding season.

In the Southern part of the United States their natural haunts—they form large colonies, where in the mating season it is an easy matter for the most inexperienced hunters to kill them by hundreds.

The story is pathetic enough when the egret is shot, because when the parent birds are shot the nestlings in countless numbers are left to perish from starvation.

LANSBURGH ESTATE ESTIMATED TO BE NEARLY A MILLION

Will Provides for Division of Merchant's Property Into Ten Equal Shares.

Between $750,000 and $1,000,000 is the estimated value of the estate of the late Gustave Lansburgh, senior member of Lansburgh & Bro., who died April 23, according to an application made today to the Register of Wills for administration of the estate.

Nine children and two grandchildren will divide the estate, Mr. Lansburgh's will providing for division of his property into ten equal shares. To probate the will Monday is planned by the executors, Samuel Hart and Adolph Weyl. Attorney R. B. H. Lyon, a son-in-law of Mr. Lansburgh, represents the executors.

An inventory of the estate filed today, declares it consists principally of 419 shares of stock in the new mercantile corporation, formed just before Mr. Lansburgh's death. This stock is said to be worth far more than its par value of $100 a share.

Mr. Lansburgh also left about $75,000 in life insurance, the inventory recites, $15,000 in cash in Washington banks, and $30,000 in stocks and bonds, in addition to an undivided interest of $12,000 in real estate and other securities, with his two brothers, James and Pullis Lansburgh.

Distribution of the estate, except the interest in the mercantile firm, placed in trust for five years, will be made within a year.

Latham Accords Praise To American Aviators

PARIS, April 28.—"American aviators are the best in the world, and within two or three years America will leave Europe far behind in aeroplaning."

This tribute was paid today by Hubert Latham, one of the foremost aviators of France, who has just returned from America and a supplemental trip around the world, flying in the Philippines and China.

Latham said he will not fly again until aeroplanes are constructed with far greater stability than at present. "I am alive today," he said, "simply because I have had great luck. I can fly as well as anyone, but at that, I have had many narrow escapes. Ninety per cent of my accidents have been due to structural weakness in my machines."

Latham says his flying has netted him $150,000. He admits that his mother's objection has influenced him in deciding to quit.

MISS ANNIE GRAHAM BECOMES BRIDE OF JAY GOULD TODAY

Wedding of Millionaire's Son Lacks Ecstacy That Marked Sister's Marriage.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The third wedding within the last year among the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, takes place this afternoon at St. Thomas Church, when Jay Gould, second son of the multi-millionaire, will be married to Miss Annie Douglas Graham, only daughter of Mrs. Hubert Vos. The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Ernest M. Stires.

The wedding and reception which follows at the studio of Hubert Vos, are in marked contrast to the ecstacy that marked the wedding of Marjorie Gould to Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia, and of Vivian Gould to Lord Decies, owing to the recent death of Mme. Montserrat, an aunt of the bride.

The bride will be given away by her stepfather and will be attended by Mrs. Snowden A. Fahnestock, Miss Marjorie Whitlock, and Miss Anita Van Dyke. Kingdon Gould, brother of the groom, will act as best man, and the ushers are Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., Harvey Graham, Rush Estlin, J. Henry Alexander, Jr., Julius Noyes, and T. Chesley Richardson, Jr.

Among the many costly wedding presents is a head ornament of diamonds, in laurel leaf design, from the father of the groom. Young Gould—he is twenty-three—has his bride will go to George J. Gould's camp in the Adirondacks for the first part of their honeymoon, and will then go to London as the guests of Lord and Lady Decies.
